Inaugurated in November 1991, ECARE started as a joint initiative of the Institut d'Etudes Européennes (IEE) at the Université Libre de Bruxelles (ULB), and of the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR), a network of around 500 researchers in Europe.

In the Fall of 1997, ECARE then merged with the Centre d'Economie Mathématique et d'Econométrie, CEME, which had been founded at ULB in the 1970’s, with as purpose to foster international quantitative research in economics at ULB. And in the Fall of 1999, the collaboration with statisticians from ULB’s Institut de Statistique et de Recherche Opérationnelle (ISRO) was officialized by the transformation of ECARE into ECARES, the “European Centre for Advanced Research in Economics and Statistics”. These two institutional changes have thus gone in the same direction: strengthening the connection between research in economics, econometrics and statistics while keeping our commitment to excellence and internationalization.

Over the years, ECARES researchers have developed expertise in a number of major fields of economics, in particular:

- The evaluation of European integration policies and its dynamics of “deepening” and “widening”.
- The analysis of economies in transition, in Eastern Europe and in China.
- The structure and behavior of banking and financial markets.
- The theory and empirics of macroeconomics, including its political economy component.
- The behavior and organization of firms and markets.
- The theory and applications of econometrics.
- The statistical analysis of time series data.

This research activity has given ECARES international visibility and reputation: the European Wall Street Journal in September 2004 was mentioning ECARES in a short list of seven European centres of excellence that were resisting the brain drain to the more attractive US universities. Its members are also particularly active in CEPR, as Research Director, Programme Directors, Research Fellows or Research Affiliates. Members of ECARES have moreover been serving on the Council of the European Economic Association (EEA) or the Council of the Econometric Society. They have organized major international events, such as a Nobel Symposium, two annual meetings of the EEA, and a World Congress of the Econometric Society.

In 2005, Mathias Dewatripont served as President of the EEA. He was also appointed by the European Commission as member of the newly created European Research Council. Marc Hallin was awarded a Chaire Francqui to lecture on at the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven. Lucrezia Reichlin was appointed as Director General Research at the European Central Bank in February 2005.

In close connection with this research, ECARES has developed an important doctoral activity, with the creation of a Doctoral School that attracts many first-class European and non-European students. ECARES has also received a substantial number of EU-financed “Training and Mobility of Researchers” grants, and participates in several networks in the “Research Training Network” programme.

ECARES and CORE have decided to join forces in a common center of excellence, ECORE that integrates the research activities and doctoral programs of both institutions. ECORE ranks among the top five research institutions in Europe, after LSE, Tilburg, Oxford and Cambridge. ECORE has 60 permanent Faculty, some 20 post-doctoral students and 90 doctoral students in residence in Brussels and Louvain-la-Neuve.

This report presents the achievements of ECARES for the year 2005. They were made possible by our collaboration with CEPR and the support of ULB. Our goal for future years is to keep our commitment to excellence in research as well as our mission of high-quality graduate education.

WHO’S WHO AT ECARES

ECARES FELLOWS

teaches finance and economics at ULB and he is the Executive Director of the European Corporate Governance Institute (ECGI). In 2003 he taught at the Said Business School (University of Oxford). He graduated from the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) and holds a Ph.D. in economics from the European University Institute (EUI). Previously he worked at the Centro de Estudios Monetarios y Financieros (CEMFI) in Madrid and at the European Commission's Directorate for Industry (DG III). He is a member of the European Academic Council of Standard & Poor's, the Belgian Corporate Governance Commission and an invited member of the management committee of the European Confederation of Directors Associations (ECODA). He has given expert briefings to the Group of Economic Analysis of the President of the European Commission, the senior management of Alcatel, BP, the clients of Hermes Pension Management, the Euro 50 Group, the Italian Securities Regulator (CONSOB), the OECD and the World Bank, among other. His research focuses on empirical law and finance.

Estelle Cantillon

holds a M.Sc. in Management from ULB (Solvay Business School), an M.Phil. in Economics from Cambridge University and a Ph.D. in Economics from Harvard University. Prior to joining ECARES in 2004, she was a post-doctoral fellow at the Cowles Foundation, Yale University, and an Assistant Professor at Harvard Business School. She is also a research affiliate at the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR). Her main research interests are in auction and market design, with applications to procurement, the design of combinatorial auctions, the competition between marketplaces and the creation of markets. Her work combines theoretical and empirical analysis to answer questions such as: How do market rules affect the outcome in a particular market? How should the market be organized in the interest of the market owner? Her work has implications for firms at the operational level (procurement) and at the strategic level ("firms-as-markets"). At ECARES she teaches market design and empirical industrial organization.

Micael Castanheira de Moura

holds a Ph.D. in Economics from ULB (1998). He spent two years (1997-1999) at IGIER (Bocconi University) as a TMR research fellow and is now Chercheur Qualifié auprès du FNRS. His main focuses of research are political economics (voting and party theory), transition, and information management in organizations. Work currently in progress comprises the analysis of the strategic positioning of parties when political platforms contain a quality dimension (with Juan Carrillo), the parties' strategic use of a governance structure (with Nicolas Sahuguet and Benoît Crutzen), the political economics of welfare reforms in the European Union (with Tito Boeri), and the analysis of information management inside and across organizations (with Mikko Leppamaki). He teaches Introductory Microeconomics (Undergraduate level) and Topics in Political Economics (Graduate Level) at ULB, and recently taught industrial organization, macroeconomics, and graduate monetary theory.

Paola Conconi

Her main research interests are in the areas of International Trade, Regional Integration, Development Economics, Environmental Economics, and Political Economy. She holds a B.A. in Political Science from the University of Bologna, an M.A. in International Relations from the School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Hopkins University, and a M.Sc. and a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Warwick. She is a research fellow of the ESCR Centre for the Study of Globalisation and Regionalisation (CSGR) at the University of Warwick and a Research Affiliate of the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR).

Griselda Deelstra

holds a degree in Actuarial Sciences (1992) and a D.Sc in Mathematics (1996) from the Vrije Universiteit Brussel. Her research fields are: Interest rate models, stochastic optimization, mathematical finance and applications in insurances. She teaches Stochastic Finance and Stochastic Calculus at the ULB. Between 1997 and 2001, she has been teaching at the Ecole Nationale en Statistique et de l'Administration Economique (ENSAE) in Paris and at the doctoral programs of the Universities Paris 7 and Paris 11. During that period, she was a member of the jury of the Institut des Actuaires Français (IAF).

Catherine Dehon

holds a Ph.D. in Statistics from ULB, 2001. Her research areas focus on robust regression, robust multivariate analysis and robusteconometric methods. She has been assistant professor at ULB since Spring 2002.

Christine De Mol

holds a Ph.D. in Physics (1979) and a habilitation degree in Mathematical Physics (1992) from ULB. Since 1975, she has held several research positions with the Belgian National Fund for Scientific Research (FNRS) that she left in 1998 as a Honorary Research Director to become a full-time Professor at ULB. She has served on the Editorial Board of the journal "Inverse Problems" and has held several visiting positions (Universities of London, Rome, Montpellier, Paris-Sud). Her research interests include inverse and ill-posed problems, regularization methods, mathematical methods in signal and image processing, wavelet theory and time series analysis with applications to economic data.

Mathias Dewatripont

Marjorie Gassner

Marjorie Gassner holds a Ph.D. in Mathematics from ULB, 1989. Her research mainly concerns the mathematical aspects of electoral systems, and in particular proportional representation. She teaches Mathematics. She is a member of CRISP (Centre Recherche et d’Information Socio-Politiques) and CEVIPOL (Centre d’étude de la vie Politique - U.L.B.) and the Groupe de Recherche sur l’Analyse des Choix Collectifs.

Domenico Giannone

holds a Ph.D. from ULB, 2004 (see Thesis). His primary fields of interests are Time Series Econometrics, Monetary Economics and Applied Macroeconomics. His research is on the development of econometric methods to study the dynamics of large panels of time series with applications to Macroeconomics, Monetary Economics, International Economics and Forecasting.

Victor Ginsburgh

holds a Ph.D. from ULB, 1972. His research areas include applied general equilibrium modelling, industrial organization and, more recently, cultural economics. He is a Faculty member of CORE, at the Université Catholique de Louvain. He has been financial director and co-director to ECARES since Spring 2001.

Marc Hallin

holds a D.Sc. in Mathematics from the Université libre de Bruxelles (1976). He is on the editorial boards of the Journal of the American Statistical Association, the Journal of Time Series Analysis, Statistical Inference for Stochastic Processes, and the Journal de la Société Française de Statistique; he serves as a coordinating editor for the Journal of Statistical Planning and Inference. A Fellow of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics (I.M.S.), of the American Statistical Association (A.S.A.), and a Membre titulaire of the International Statistical Institute (I.S.I.), he is member of the Classe des Sciences de l'Académie Royale de Belgique.

Georg Kirchsteiger

holds a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Vienna (1993). He worked previously at the University of Vienna, at the CentER in Tilburg, and at the University of Maastricht. In 2000 he received the Hicks-Tinbergen Medal of the EEA (jointly with E. Fehr & A. Riedl). His main research interests are: behavioral economics, experimental economics, game theory, industrial economics, and public economics.

Patrick Legros

holds a Ph.D. in Social Science, from the California Institute of Technology, 1989. His research interests are microeconomics, theory of contracts and organizations and antitrust policy. He was assistant professor of economics at Cornell University until 1996, professor of economics at the University of Liège (1996-1999) and has been Professor at ULB since 1999. He teaches microeconomics, industrial organization, competition policy, and the theory of contracts. Since 2001, he has been Research Director in Economics at the Institut d'Etudes Européennes. He is a Fellow of CEPR.

Guy Mélard

holds a Ph.D. in Statistics from ULB, 1975. His research fields include: a) statistical analysis of time series and signal processing: algorithms for identification, estimation and forecasting methods; b) models with time-dependent coefficients, non-linear models (threshold models, ARCH models), intervention models; c) development of an Expert System for Economic Forecasting: TSE (Time Series Expert); d) seasonal adjustment by signal extraction methods; e) development of a self-learning time series course; f) e-learning in general.

holds a Ph.D. from ULB, 2002. His research areas include political economy and applied econometrics. He teaches European political economy. In 2004-2005 he was a visiting scholar at the Institute of Governmental Studies of the University of California, Berkeley.

Davy Paindaveine

holds a Ph.D. in Statistics from ULB, 2002. Between 1998 and 2002, he taught as assistant at the Mathematics Department (ULB). He is currently Assistant Professor at the Institut de Statistique et de Recherche Opérationnelle (ISRO), ULB. His main research interests are concerned with mathematical statistics, and include asymptotic and nonparametric inference, multivariate analysis, robust and invariant methods, as well as inference for stochastic processes and time series. He is also interested in applied probability, with emphasis on two-person games, sequential decision, and optimal stopping problems.

holds a Ph.D. in Economics from New York University, 1986. Her main fields of interest are macroeconomics and applied time series. She has led a team of researchers at the Bank of Italy who devised a real time coincident indicator for the Euro area business cycle which is published every month by the CEPR. She teaches econometrics and time series at ULB. Previously she has been visiting associate professor at the Columbia University Graduate School of Business, Deputy Director of the Research Department of the Observatoire Français des Conjonctures Économiques in Paris, research fellow at the European University Institute in Florence. She is CEPR Program co-director of International Macroeconomics, former member of the Council of the European Economic Association, chair of the scientific committee of the Euro Area Business Cycle Network, Chair of the CEPR Euro area business cycle dating committee. She has been consulting for the research department of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, the Swiss National Central Bank, the European Central Bank and the Bank of Italy and teaching specialized advanced courses in several universities and central banks. She has been appointed as Director General Research at the European central Bank since September 2005.

Nicolas Sahuguet
holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Pennsylvania, 2001. His research areas include industrial organization, auction theory and political economics. He has been appointed at HEC Montreal since September 2005.

André Sapir
holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the Johns Hopkins University, 1977. He spent five years as assistant professor at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He was President of the Institut d’Études Européennes (1992-1998). He is a Senior Fellow of Bruegel and a Research Fellow of CEPR. He is a Founding Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Industry, Competition and Trade and a Founding Editorial Board Member of the World Trade Review (Cambridge University Press and World Trade Organisation). He is also a member of European Commission President Jose Manuel Barroso’s Economic Policy Analysis Group. Previously, he was an Economic Adviser to European Commission President Romano Prodi (2001-2004) and Economic Advisor to the Director-General for Economic and Financial Affairs (1990-1993 and 1995-2001). His research activities include empirical, theoretical and policy work in the field of international economics, with special emphasis on economic integration, monetary union, commercial policy and North-South trade. He has published extensively in these areas.

David Veredas
holds a PhD. from Université Catholique de Louvain, 2002. His research areas are divided between theoretical econometrics and empirical economics. The former are duration models, aggregation, fat tails and simulation methods. The latter are empirical market microstructure and forecasting public deficit. He is Faculty member of CORE, at UCL.

Patrick Waelbroeck
earned his Ph.D. in economics from Université de Paris I (Panthéon-Sorbonne) in December 2000. His research is in industrial organization with interest in the economics of science and innovation and in applied microeconometrics with interest in numerical methods. He has been at Ecole ingénieur Telecom Paris since September 2005.

Philippe Weil has been at ULB since 1992. Prior to his coming to ULB, he studied law and political science in Paris, got his Ph.D. in Economics from Harvard University in 1985, and was assistant (1985-89) and associate professor (1989-92) at Harvard. He was director of the CEPR program on International Macroeconomics (1994-98), and is now a member of the Appointment and Executive Committees of CEPR, and a Research Associate of the NBER. He was co-Director of ECARES from 1992 to 2002. He is a member of the editorial board of the Journal of Economic Growth and of the Journal of Money, Credit and Banking. His current interests center on macroeconomics and labor market imperfections. and saving under uncertainty. He is writing a macroeconomics textbook, "Macroeconomic Theory: a Primer", to be completed in 2006.

NON RESIDENT FELLOWS

Philippe Aghion
holds a Ph.D. in Economics from Harvard University, 1987. He has contributed to contract theory, the theory of organizations, the theory of endogenous growth and the economics of transition. One of his current research topics is to help improve the microeconomic foundations to various dynamic aspects of macroeconomics. He has been assistant professor at MIT, researcher at CNRS in Paris, Deputy Chief Economist at the EBRD, official fellow at Nuffield College, professor at University College London and is currently professor at Harvard University, where he teaches growth theory and contract theory. He is a fellow of the Econometric Society, laureate of the Yrjo Jahnsson Prize for Economics and Programme Director of CEPR for Industrial Organization and was a member of the Council of the European Economic Association.

Erik Berglöf
holds a Ph.D. from the Stockholm School of Economics, 1991. His research focuses on financial contracting and corporate governance. In particular, he has applied theoretical insights to studies of differences between capitalist financial systems, and specific ownership and control arrangements in these countries. His recent work has also analyzed financing problems in transition economies. He is a research fellow and programme Director of CEPR (‘Institutions and Economic Performance’ program) and is currently director of the Stockholm Institute of Transition Economics at the Stockholm School of Economics.

Patrick Bolton
holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the London School of Economics, 1986. He was professor at Princeton University 1998-2005 and is currently at Columbia University. His contributions are in the area of corporate finance, the theory of the firm, antitrust theory, the theory of rational learning by experimentation, political economy, the economics of transition and development economics. He was Managing Editor of the Review of Economic Studies and a member of the Council of the European Economic Association. He is a fellow of the Econometric Society and CEPR and Editor of the Journal of the European Economic Association.

Christophe Croux
holds a Ph.D. in Statistics from Antwerp University, 1993. His research interests are in the robustification of econometric methods, statistical properties of classification techniques and the development of exploratory data analysis tools for multiple time series. He is associate editor of the Journal of Computational Statistics and Data Analysis. He was professor at ULB and a fellow of ECARES. He has been professor at Katholieke Universiteit Leuven since 2002.

Antonio Estache
holds a Ph.D. in Economics from ULB, 1995. His research area covers various specialized aspects of public economics (decentralization, tax design, instrument assignments) and of the theory of regulation applied to network industries. He works at the World Bank where he is Lead Economist responsible for the design and implementation of training and research programs on economic regulation delivered in developing countries, and Lead Advisor for Latin America responsible for policy aspects of the reform of infrastructure services.

Jacques Lawarrée
holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Berkeley, 1990. His research area is the theory of incentives and organizations. His is an associate professor of economics at the University of Washington in Seattle where he teaches microeconomic theory, game theory, contract theory, industrial organization and the economics of regulation. He was local organizer of the World Congress of the Econometric Society (Seattle 2000). He also worked at Microsoft.
Ailsa Roëll holds a Ph.D. in Political Economy from Johns Hopkins University (1983) and a Ph.D. in Applied Economics from ULB (1994). She has made contributions in the theory of choice under uncertainty and the theory of optimal income taxation. She was lecturer in economics at the London School of Economics, visiting assistant professor of finance at the University of California at Berkeley and professor at ULB and Tilburg University. She is a fellow of the CEPR, and was a member of the editorial boards of the Review of Economic Studies and Economica. She was at Princeton University 1998-2005 and is currently at Columbia University.

Gérard Roland holds a Ph.D. in Economics from ULB, 1988. His research includes transition and political economics. His contributions have covered mainly political economy aspects of transition but also financial reform, privatization, restructuring and macroeconomic aspects of transition. He was the coorganizer, with Olivier Blanchard, of a Nobel symposium on the economics of transition in September 1999. He is Program Director of CEPR for the program ‘Institutions and Economic Performance’. His research in political economics spans from the break-up of nations and federalism to the separation of powers in democracies and comparative analysis of parliamentary and presidential systems. He is currently part-time professor at ULB and has been professor at the University of Berkeley since 2002.

Étienne Wasmer holds a Ph.D. from LSE (1997) and has graduated from Ecole Polytechnique (1993). He has worked on labor economics, search theory, macroeconomics and the economics of discrimination. He was professor at ECARES from 1998 to 2003. Since 2004, he has been professor at the Université du Québec à Montréal (Uquam).

POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCHERS

Benoît Crutzen holds a Ph.D. in Economics from ULB (2004). His supervisors were Gérard Roland and Micael Castanheira. He also holds a BA in Economics from Università Luigi Bocconi (1995), an M.Phil. in Economics from Oxford University (1998) and an MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB (2001). His research focuses on political economics. He has been appointed at the Erasmus University (Rotterdam) since September 2005.

Vincenzo Verardi holds a Ph.D. in Economics from ULB (2003). His supervisor was Gérard Roland. He also holds a BA in Economics from ULB (1996), an M.Sc. in Econometrics from this same institution (1998). His research focuses mainly on applied political economics and development. He came back at ULB in January 2005 after being appointed as expatriate permanent expert for The KULeuven in Bolivia (Cochabamba-Universidad Mayor de San Simon) in 2003 and 2004.

DOCTORAL RESEARCHERS

Ugo Albertazzi is Laurea in Economia e Commercio from Università degli Studi di Bologna (1996), holds a MSc in Economics from Université de Lausanne (1998) and an MA in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2000). Research: financial markets; supervisor: Mathias Dewatripont. Since August 2002, he has been at the Bank of Italy.

Narcissa Balta holds an MSc in Economics from University Pompeu Fabra (2004) and a MA in European Studies from College of Europe, Bruges/Warsaw (2002). Her research interests are macroeconomics, international finance, bounded rationality models and applied econometrics, coordinator of the ECARES Dynamic Macro Group. Her Ph.D. thesis subject focuses on expectations formation mechanisms in macroeconomic dynamics; supervisor: Philippe Weil.

Martha Banbura holds a MSc in Mathematics and Statistics from Technical University of Wroclaw (2002) and is currently in the ECARES doctoral program in Economics and Statistics; supervisor: Christine De Mol.
Maria-Caterina Bramati

Aida Caldera

Paolo Casini
holds a degree in Economics from "Università G. D'Annunzio" in Pescara, Italy (2001), and an MA in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2003). His research focuses on industrial organization, and effects of competition on microfinance markets.

Delphine Cassart

Cédric Ceulemans
holds a BA in Economics from Université catholique de Louvain (UCL, 2003) and an MA in Economics from ULB (2005). His research focuses on cultural economics; supervisors: Victor Ginsburgh & Patrick Legros.

Claudia Cicconi holds a degree in Statistics from Università 'La Sapienza', Rome (2000) and a Ma in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2002). Her research focuses on macroeconometric modelling and forecasting; supervisors: Lucrezia Reichlin & Domenico Giannone.

Jacopo Cimadomo
holds a BA in Economics Monetary and Financial Area from Università Luigi Bocconi (1999) and an MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB (2002). Research: the transmission mechanism for fiscal and monetary policies in the Euro-area and the US; supervisor: Lucrezia Reichlin. Since Summer 2004, he has been fellow at CEPII (Paris).

Laura Coroneo
Is a second year Ph.D. student in Economics. She holds a degree in Economics from the University of Bologna (2003) and a Master in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2005). Her research focuses on Financial Econometrics; supervisor: David Veredas.

Antonello D'Agostino holds a BA in Statistical and Economic Sciences from Università degli Studi di Roma “La Sapienza” (1998), a MA in Economics from Università Luigi Bocconi (1999) and an MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB (2001). Research: macro-finance; supervisor: Lucrezia Reichlin. He has been a fellow at the Ente Luigi Ainaudi Institute (Rome) since Spring of 2004,

Quentin David
holds a BA in Economics from ULB (2001). He is currently involved in the doctoral program in Economics at ULB. Research: Labor market in developing countries; supervisor: Etienne Wasmer.

David De Antonio Liedo holds a BA in Economics from Universidad de Salamanca (2002) and a Master in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2003). He has been an intern in the Business Cycle Department at the Kiel Institute of World Economics and worked as a consultant at the European Central Bank (Econometric...
Bruno Deschamps holds a BA in Economics from Université Catholique de Louvain (1999) and an MA in Economics from ULB (2001). Research: behavioral economics, in particular herd behavior and time-inconsistent preferences; supervisors: Mathias Dewatripont and Victor Ginsburgh. Since October 2005, he has been appointed at the University of Bath.

Marina Emiris
holds a BA in Economics and an MA in Economics & Econometrics from ULB, 1999. Research: dynamic factor models applied in the study of financial market linkages; supervisor: Lucrezia Reichlin. She currently works at the Belgian Central Bank.

Nicolas Gothelf

holds a BA in Economics from ULB (2003). He is currently undertaking an MSc in Economics while teaching undergraduate classes in Mathematics and Introductory Economics.

Gisèle Hites
holds a BA in Economics from ULB (1995), an MSc in Econometrics and Mathematical Economics from the London School of Economics (1996), and a MSc in Economics for Development from the University of Oxford (1997). Research: methodology of Markov chain model applications in economics; determinants of female participation in the labor force; supervisor: Etienne Wasmer.

Alexandre Janiak
holds a BA in Econometrics from the Université des Sciences et Technologies de Lille (2002), and an MSc in Economics and Statistics from the Université Libre de Bruxelles (2003). He is currently enrolled in the PhD program at Ecares and his research interests are mainly the macroeconomics of labor market and international trade, with some emphasis on empirical issues. Supervisor: Etienne Wasmer.

Joachim Keller
holds a Master in Economics from Mannheim University (2002) and a Master in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2003). Since 2003, he has been a doctoral student at ECARES. His research fields are the organization of innovation and the economics of state aid control, supervisor: Patrick Legros.

Benoît Laine holds a BA in Econometrics from Université de Toulouse (1999) and an MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB (2001). Research: multivariate quantile problems and depth models; supervisor: Marc Hallin.

Elisabetta Lazzaro holds a BA in Economics from Università di Venezia, Ca’ Foscari (1995) and an MA in Economics from Université Paris l-Sorbonne (1998). Her research focuses on economics of art markets, and cultural education policies. She got her Ph.D. in 2005 (see Dissertations), supervisors: Victor Ginsburgh & Xavier Greffe (Université Paris l-Sorbonne). Since September 2005, she has been appointed at the Università degli studi di Padova.

holds a BA in Mathematics of Charles University (Prague) and an MA in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2001). Research: large panels of time series data; supervisor: Marc Hallin.

Frédéric Malherbe
holds a BA in Management (Ingénieur commercial) from the Université Catholique de Louvain, Belgium (1998), a Master degree in Management from the Université Catholique de Louvain, Belgium (2001) and a Master degree in Economics from ULB (2005). He worked for Deployments Factory S.A. in Brussels for four years as Project Manager and he is still member of the Company Board. He research interests are mainly Macroeconomics and Finance; supervisor: Philippe Weil.

Anne Michels

Michele Modugno
holds a BA in Economics from Università Luigi Bocconi (2003) and is currently enrolled in the PhD program in Economics and Statistics of ECARES. Research: Macroeconometrics of large panels of time series; supervisor: Lucrezia Reichlin.

Paulo Santos Monteiro

holds a degree in Engineering from the Politecnico of Milan (2002) and will soon discuss a paper in order to obtain a MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB. She has also been an intern at the European Central Bank in the Monetary Policy Strategy Division for a year (2003-2004). Her research interests are econometrics, macroeconomics and monetary economics; supervisors: Philippe Weil & Domenico Giannone.

Fulvio Mulatero holds a BA in Economics from Università Luigi Bocconi (1999), a Master in Economics from Coripe Piemonte (2000) and an MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB (2002). Research: economics of international fragmentation; supervisor: André Sapir.

Gianluca Papa
holds a BA in Economics from Università di Bologna (1998), an MA in Economics from Università Luigi Bocconi (1999) and an MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB (2001). Since July 2004 he has appointed at Fondazione CERM. Research: financial aspects of the economics of innovation; supervisors: Mathias Dewatripont and Michele Cincera (DULBEA, ULB).

Rafal Raciborski holds an MSc in Management and Marketing from Technical University Wroclaw, 2001. Research: macroeconomics and finance; supervisors: Lucrezia Reichlin and Philippe Weil. He is currently involved in the Econometrics and Statistics doctoral program at ECARES.

Alexander Sebald holds a Doctorandus degree from the University of Maastricht (2002). Research: the integration of a broader model of human behaviour into economic theory; supervisor: Georg Kirchsteiger.
Christophe Soil
holds a BA in Economics (1999) and an MA in Economics (2001) from ULB. His research focuses on the impact of technological progress on labour market, the use of team incentives as a monitoring tool and the subcontracting as a strategy to go beyond the trade-union’s constraint on the wage gap. He got his Ph.D. from ULB in 2005 (see Dissertations), supervisor: Mathias Dewatripont.

Biagio Speciale is Laurea in Economics from Università degli Studi di Catania (2001) and holds an MA in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2003). Research: economics of education; supervisor: Mathias Dewatripont.

Mohamed Sraieb holds a Master in Mathematical-Economics and Econometrics from the University of Tunis (1998), and an MA in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2002). Research: strategic stability of international economic agreements; supervisor: Patrick Legros.

Serguei Stepanov holds a MSc in Engineering from Moscow Aviation Institute (Technical University, 1998), an MA in Economics from New Economic School, Moscow (2000) and an MA in Economics and Statistics from ULB (2002). He has been visiting Stockholm School of Economics for the academic year 2004-2005. He got his Ph.D. from ULB in 2005 (see Dissertations), supervisor: Mathias Dewatripont. He has been appointed at the New Economic School (Moscow) since October 2005.

Hiroyuki Taniai
holds a BA in Economics (2002) and a Master in Engineering (2004), both from Osaka University. Research: asymptotics of quantile and rank statistics applied to financial time series; supervisor: Marc Hallin.

Lidia Tsyganok holds a BA in Economics from ULB (2001). Research: the components of political systems and their applications to EU institutions; supervisor: Mathias Dewatripont.

Patrick Van Roy
holds a BA in Economics from ULB (2000), and an M.Phil. in Economics from the University of Cambridge (2001). Research: economics of banking and prudential regulation; supervisor: Mathias Dewatripont.

Cristina Vespro
holds a BA in Economics (1997) and an MA in Economics (1999) from Università Luigi Bocconi, and a MA in Econometrics and Statistics from ULB (2001). She awarded the Joseph de la Vega Prize for the Emerging Markets in June 2003, for the research entitled “Block Trades and the Benefits from Control in Slovenia” (with A. Gregoric). Research: understanding financial architecture; supervisor: Marco Becht.

Alexis Walckiers holds a BA in Economics (2000) and an MA in Economics (2002) from ULB. Research: the economics of universities; supervisor: Mathias Dewatripont.

ECARES DOCTORAL SCHOOL

Chair : Georg Kirchsteiger, David Veredas and Philippe Weil.

The Doctoral school at ECARES offers advanced courses in economics, econometrics and statistics as well as three weekly seminars, two in economics and one in statistics/econometrics. The courses, taught by ECARES fellows and visitors from other universities, are part of the curriculum of the D.P.E.S. (Doctoral School in Economics and Statistics) and the D.P.E (Doctoral School in Economics) granted by the Université Libre de Bruxelles.

ECARES is now joining forces with CORE form the UCL in Louvain, to ultimately create a unified center ECORE (European Center For Research in Economics). We already have common courses and common seminars.

The Université Libre de Bruxelles is part of the European Doctoral Program ENTER network. The label “European Doctorate - ENTER network” can be obtained if the student spends at least 6 months in one of the Universities of the network: Barcelona (Universidad Autonoma), London (University College), Mannheim (Universität Mannheim), Tilburg (Tilburg University), Stockholm (Stockholm University) or Toulouse (Université des Sciences Sociales).

Beside courses offered at ECARES, the students belonging to the doctoral school can register for doctoral courses offered by Université Catholique de Louvain in Louvain-la-Neuve and Facultés Universitaires Notre-Dame de la Paix in Namur.

Here is the list of the visiting professors and courses they taught in 2005:

Tito Boeri (Università L. Bocconi): “Aggregate Labor Markets”.

Natalie Chen (Warwick University): “International Trade”.

Alex Cukierman (Tel Aviv University): “Monetary Policymaking Institutions and the Structure of the Economy: Some Recent Developments”.

Gérard Roland (Berkeley University): “Transition Economics”.

Steve Portnoy (University of Illinois): “Regression Quantiles and Applications”.

ECARES Doctoral School hosted and organized the ENTER Jamboree on January 20-22, 2005. Its programme was:

First Day

Chair: Victor Ginsburgh & Paola Conconi (ECARES)

Zacharias Sautner (Mannheim University): Stock Options and Employee Behavior. Discussant: Johannes Vogel (Tilburg University).

Daniel A. Benitez (University of Toulouse 1): Decentralization, Incentives and the Optimal Organizational Structure. Discussant: Per Sonnerby (Stockholm HHS).

Magnus Wiberg (Stockholm HHS): Location Equilibrium with Endogenous Rent Seeking. Discussant: Sergio Vicente (Universitat Autonoma Barcelona).

Daniel Tecle Haile (Tilburg University): Genesis of Inequality Counts More than Inequality per se. Discussant: Thomas Gall (Mannheim University).

DOCTORAL DISSERTATIONS

Maria Caterina Bramati
Title: Some Robust Methods in the Analysis of Multivariate Time Series.
Director: Marc Hallin. & Davy Paindaveine

The goal of this thesis is to study some inference problems in multivariate models. Two main topics are considered: robust regression estimators in panel data models (Chapter 1) and semiparametric hypothesis testing in vector autoregression models (Chapters 2 and 3). Panel data estimators can be strongly biased in the existing on robust estimation of the parameters in a panel data model. In Chapter 1 we study robust regression techniques in the fixed effects linear panel data framework. Robustness of the procedures is investigated by means of breakdown point computations and simulation experiments. A distinction between outlying blocks and cells in a panel is made. To show the potential of robust panel data methods an empirical example on the response of the private sector behavior to fiscal policy is presented.

In Chapter 2 we construct a class of locally asymptotically most stringent (in the Le Cam sense) tests for independence between two sets of variables in the VAR models. These tests are based on multivariate ranks of distances and multivariate signs of the observations and are shown to be asymptotically distribution-free under very mild assumptions on the noise, which is obtained by applying a linear transformation to a block of spherical innovation. The class of tests derived is invariant with respect to the group of block affine transformations and asymptotically invariant with respect to the group of continuous monotone marginal radial transformations. The issue of instantaneous causality between two groups of variables has been the object of some controversial positions in the last few decades. According to the definition of Granger (1969), when the knowledge of the current value of a series \( x_t \) helps in predicting the current value of a series \( y_t \), we can speak of instantaneous causality. The aim of Chapter 3 is testing for instantaneous noncausality. Since instantaneous correlation of the innovations is a necessary condition for instantaneous causality (Pierce and Haugh, 1977), we focus on testing some restrictions on the covariance matrix of the noise. The class of the derived tests is locally asymptotically most stringent (in the Le Cam sense), invariant with respect to the group of block affine transformations and asymptotically invariant with respect to the group of continuous monotone radial transformations. Those tests are based on multivariate ranks of distances and multivariate signs of the observations and are shown to be asymptotically distribution-free under very mild assumptions on the noise.

Title: Essay in Cultural Economics.
Director: Victor Ginsburgh & Xavier Greffe (MATISSE, Paris 1).

The thesis develops relevant aspects connected with the consumption, appreciation and creation of artistic quality. The first two essays study originality and copies as a particular aspect of artistic quality. In particular, the first chapter focuses on the distortions that are generated in the art market by the presence of informational asymmetries and uncertainty of dealing with originals, copies, fakes or wrongly attributed works. The second essay empirically tests how originality — among other artistic and market characteristics — is priced by the market. The market for prints by Rembrandt is considered. The third and last essay investigates the policy impact on the demand for arts/music education in terms of subsidies and other reforms, with an application to Frenchspeaking Belgium.

Christophe Soil
Title: Essays on Organizations and Technological Progress.
Director: Mathias Dewatripont.

This thesis has three chapters with quite different topics.

In the first chapter model, we show first that under specific assumptions a firm may have an interest to subcontract tasks either to decrease its production cost or to increase the quality of its product. In a more elaborate framework where surplus negotiation are such that the workers' wages are linked with each other, we generalize this result by showing that the firm's objective is to reduce the variance in quality requirement of the tasks performed in house. Therefore the firm optimal strategy is to focus on tasks having the same quality requirement than her core business. This strategy is all the more interesting that (a) they are few tasks to subcontract, (b) they present a large differentiation in terms of quality and few specific requirements regarding their realization and (d) the tasks are not complementary with each other.

In the second chapter, we assume both that the individual returns of the agents belonging to the same team are neither deterministic, nor verifiable and that a principal is not able to commit ex ante to not intervening in the agents’ work ex post. Then we show that in such circumstances, the principal’s monitoring may not be efficient due to the risk of abuse of authority and incentives scheme are efficient only for small teams. Therefore we present an alternative management system: if the principal transfers simultaneously control and income rights to the agents of his team, he can organize a peer monitoring system such that he can commit de facto to the monitoring intensity and gives optimal autonomy to the agents of his team. Then we show the system the principals chooses depends on the team size: for small team, the first-best is the incentive scheme, for large teams the only efficient solution will be principal’s monitoring (with reduced motivation), between this two extremes, the peer monitoring system is the best alternative.

In the third paper, we propose a theoretical framework to analyse the impact of technological progress on the labour market. To do so, we take into consideration both a skill-obsolescence effect on the labour supply and a biased enhancing effect on the labour demand. In this context, we see how technological progress can lead to a reduction of the low-skilled workers employment even if it generates production growth in all sectors. Afterwards, we show this reduction of employment can be prevented by the government if it switches a share of the fiscal burden from low-skilled workers to “their” capital equipment and to sectors working mainly with high-skilled workers.

Serguey Stepanov

Title: Stagnation and Instability in the Less Developed Economies.

Directors: Mathias Dewatripont.

The thesis is a collection of theoretical models that study the links between law and corporate governance. Specifically, it examines how a legal system affects the distribution of ownership and control and the choice of corporate governance mechanisms in a firm. It also studies the efficiency implications of various legal rules.

The work differs from the previous literature in the field in two respects. First, it dissects different dimensions of law and account for the interdependences between the corporate governance mechanisms that are associated with these dimensions (they can be either substitutes or complements). Second, its models emphasize the importance of the costs associated with legal protection of shareholders.

The main contribution of its approach is showing that the effects of law are multifaceted and non-monotonic and go well beyond the traditional “law and finance” view that legal protection of investors is conducive to financial development.

In particular, in chapter 1 it shows that when the cost of legal shareholder protection outweigh its benefits, weaker protection does not necessarily result in greater outside ownership concentration. Chapter 2 argues that, in contrast to increasing impartiality of judges, facilitating recourse to courts for shareholders that were expropriated by the management may lead to a less efficient choice of corporate governance mechanisms and to greater ownership concentration. Chapter 3 demonstrates that different dimensions of legal shareholder protection have qualitatively different impacts on the choice of firm-level corporate governance mechanisms by companies.

The results suggest that any analysis of the impact of legal shareholder protection on ownership and corporate governance should dissect different facets of a legal system. Otherwise, it would risk overlooking potentially important effects of separate legal rules and mechanisms. The work also demonstrates dangers of the “one-size-fits-all” (or “harmonization”) approach to corporate governance reform, as it shows that effects of separate legal mechanisms may qualitatively depend on the rest of the legal environment in a country.

RESEARCH CONTRACTS AND GRANTS

BELGIAN SOURCES

Actions de Recherche Concertées (ARC)

Christophe Croux, Mathias Dewatripont, Patrick Legros and Gérard Roland are currently promotors of a research contract on L'économie politique de l'organisation des États et des systèmes électoraux: théorie et étude empirique (October 2000-September 2005).

Christine De Mol, Marc Hallin and Lucrezia Reichlin are currently promotors of a research contract on Prévisions dans un contexte riche en données: applications financiers et macroéconomiques (October 2002-September 2007).

Pôles d'Attraction Interuniversitaire (PAI)

Mathias Dewatripont is currently coordinator of a PAI contract on Universities and Firms: A Comparative Analysis of the Interaction Between Market Processes, Organizational Strategies and Governance. Participants at ULB include Françoise Thys-Clément and Luc Wilkin. The associated partners are the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Université de Mons-Hainaut, Facultés Universitaires Saint-Louis, Universiteit Antwerpen, Facultés Universitaires Catholiques de Mons and Université des Sciences Sociales, Toulouse (January 2002-December 2006).

Marc Hallin is currently promotor of a PAI contract on Statistical Techniques and Modeling for Complex Substantive Questions with Complex Data. Other participants at ECARES included Christine De Mol, Guy Mélard & Lucrezia Reichlin. The coordinator and the partners are the Université Catholique de Louvain, Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Limburgs Universitair Centrum, Rheinisch-Westfälische Technische Hochschule Aachen, Université Joseph Fourier-Grenoble (January 2002-December 2006).

Several members of ECARES have received funds from the FNRS to pursue their research: Estelle Cantillon, Micael Casntaheira & Paola Conconi.

Mathias Dewatripont has received funds from FNRS in the framework of the organization of the conference on the Economics of Art and Culture in honour of Victor Ginsburgh, held in June 2005 (see ECARES Activities for details).

Belgian National Bank

Catherine Dehon, Georg Kirchsteiger and David Veredas have received funds in 2005-2006 from the Belgian National Bank to pursue their research.

Chaire Bernard Van Ommeslaghe

The goal of this Chaire is to finance activities on the liberalization and regulation of markets. In 2004 the principal project was:

- the hiring of Nicolas Sahuguet, post-doctoral researcher (01.11.04-31.08.05);
- two workshops have been organized in January and February 2005: a) The Political Economy of Liberalization of Public Services; b) European Competition Policy in a Translatantic Perspective (for both workshop see ECARES Activities for details).

FORTIS Bank

Mathias Dewatripont is currently promotor of a contract with FORTIS Bank, which has financed Griselda Deelstra in the past and will finance economic activities in the future.
